DESCRIPTION

The high-top bar table, perfect for pairing with stools, offers a contemporary and practical urban furniture solution, superb for bars, eateries, coffee shops, or residential entertainment areas.

The Scandik 13.046.P model is crafted entirely from steel. This product is available entirely in stainless steel or in carbon steel that has been galvanized and powder-coated in any customer-specified RAL color.

The tabletop is constructed from perforated steel. This perforation enhances visual appeal and functionality. It facilitates airflow, which is an advantage in warmer weather, and aids in water drainage during rainfall, making it particularly valuable for outdoor usage. Additionally, the table surface is designed to be smooth for effortless cleaning and upkeep.
